ORDER

11 DWIGHT NEVEN, et al.,¹

12 Respondents.

14
15 Introduction

16 This habeas corpus action is brought by Tony DeAngelo Swanson, a Nevada prisoner.
17 Swanson's federal habeas corpus petition is before the court on its merits. The court will deny the 18 petition, and will deny Swanson a certificate of appealability.

19 Procedural History and Factual Background

20 On April 28, 2000, Swanson was charged in a criminal complaint with one count of sexual 21 assault with a minor under 14 years of age (NRS 200.364 and 200.366) and one count of lewdness

23 _____
24 ¹ The petitioner is incarcerated at Nevada's High Desert State Prison. The warden of High 25 Desert State Prison is Dwight Neven. Therefore, pursuant to Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 25(d), 26 Dwight Neven is substituted for E.K. McDaniel as the respondent warden. Also, Adam Paul Laxalt is now Nevada's attorney general; therefore, pursuant to Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 25(d), Adam Paul Laxalt is substituted for Catherine Cortez Masto as the respondent Attorney General of the State of Nevada. The court will direct the Clerk of the Court to update the docket for this case in these respects.

2 issued for Swanson's arrest on May 1, 2000. See Arrest Warrant, Exhibit 4. Swanson was arrested
3 on November 21, 2000. See Exhibits 5, 6, and 7. A preliminary hearing was held in the Las Vegas
4 Township Justice Court on December 21, 2000, and Swanson was bound over for trial. See 5 Transcript of Preliminary Hearing, Exhibit 8; Commitment and Order to Appear, Exhibit 9. An 6 information was filed in the district court on December 28, 2000. See Information, Exhibit 11.

7 On May 17, 2001, Swanson filed a motion, pro se, to have his counsel discharged and for 8 appointment of new counsel. See Pro Se Motion, Exhibit 12. The court held a hearing on that 9 motion on May 31, 2001; Swanson complained about his counsel and stated that he would rather 10 represent himself. See Reporter's Transcript, May 31, 2001, Exhibit 13. The court continued the 11 hearing to June 6, 2001. See id. at 6-7. On June 6, 2001, Swanson told the trial court that he had 12 spoken with his counsel, had a change of heart, and wanted his appointed counsel to represent him at 13 trial. See Reporter's Transcript, June 6, 2001, Exhibit 14.

14 On June 29, 2001, the prosecution filed a motion seeking admission of evidence of another 15 crime committed by Swanson. See Motion to Admit Evidence of Other Crimes, Exhibit 15. Over 16 the next several months, the court held hearings regarding that motion, and also regarding the 17 scheduling of the trial. See Exhibits 16-19, 21, 22, 24-26.

18 The trial commenced on January 13, 2003. See Transcript of Trial, January 13, 2003, 19 Exhibit 27. Before the trial started, the court entertained argument regarding the State's motion to 20 admit evidence of other crimes, and granted the motion. See id. at 1-14. Also, before the trial began, 21 there was discussion regarding disagreement between Swanson and his counsel regarding whether to 22 call certain witnesses. See id. at 26-33. The jury was then chosen. See id. at 33-206.

23 On the second day of trial, January 14, 2003, after the jury was chosen but before opening 24 statements, there was discussion, with the jury absent, regarding disagreement between Swanson and 25

26 ² Unless otherwise specified, the exhibits referred to in this order are those filed by Swanson in support of his first amended habeas petition, and found in the record at ECF Nos. 24, 25 and 26.

1 his counsel regarding whether to call certain witnesses. See Transcript of Trial, January 14, 2003,
2 Exhibit 28, pp. 3-30. Swanson's counsel stated that he did not feel he could represent Swanson if 3 Swanson insisted on calling the witnesses. Id. at 15. Swanson then asked to represent himself. Id.
4 After canvassing Swanson at length, the court allowed Swanson to represent himself for the 5 remainder of the trial. Id. at 29.

6 The first witness called by the prosecution was the victim, RS.³ Transcript of Trial,
7 January 14, 2003, Exhibit 28, pp. 39-74. RS was twelve years old when she testified; she was nine
8 years old in January of 2000. See id. at 40. RS testified that on January 23, 2000, she was at her 9 grandfather's two-story apartment, along with her two sisters and brother, and Swanson. Id. at 45.
10 There were no other adults present. See id. at 45, 49. RS testified that on that night she and her two 11 sisters and a brother were upstairs going to bed, and she went downstairs to get water for one of her
12 sisters. See id. at 45-46. Swanson was downstairs, and he called RS over to him. Id. at 46. RS
13 testified that she went and sat next to him. Id. RS testified as follows about what happened then:

14 Q. What did he do after you sat down?

15 A. He stuck his finger in my panties and my shorts.

16 Q. Did he stick them inside your underwear?

17 A. Yes.

18 Q. Did he stick them inside your body?

19 A. Yes.

20 Q. What do you call that part of your body where he put his fingers?

21 A. My koochie.

22 Q. What did he say to you when he did that?

23 A. He didn't say nothing.

24 Q. What happened; did it hurt?

25
26 ³ The victim in this case, and the victim in Swanson's prior case, were minors at the time of the crimes and at the time of the trial in this case. The court refers to them in this order as RS and TB, respectively.

1 A. Yes, a little.

2 Q. Can you tell us whether or not you were frightened?

3 A. I was scared.

4 Q. Did you say anything to Tony?

5 A. I didn't say nothing but stop.

6 Q. After you told him stop what happened?

7 A. He then stopped until like a few minutes after that.

8 Q. What happened a few minutes after that?

9 A. Um, after a few minutes after that I was going up the stairs and he 10 squeezed my butt.

11 Q. Inside or outside of your clothes?

12 A. Outside.

13 Q. Did he touch you anywhere else on your body that you didn't want to be touched?

14 A. No.

15 He touched my titties, but that was before, like when I saw, told him to stop.
16 He waited a few minutes after that, but it was before he waited a few minutes before I told him to stop.

17 * * *

18 Q. Back when you were seated with him downstairs that's when he placed 19 his hand on your chest?

20 A. Yes.

21 Q. What happened after you were going up the stairs?

22 A. After I was going up the stairs, I went upstairs and I went up and to the room and I started crying. I told my – my sisters and them heard me crying and I told 23 them what happened.

24 Q. By the time you got upstairs did you feel any pain at all?

25 A. No, not until I went to go pee, but I waited until the morning because I didn't want to leave back out of the room.

26 I stayed in bed until the morning and then I went to go pee and it was hurting.
I was [peeing], so I was [peeing] a little at a time.

1 Q. Did you stay upstairs in the bedroom for the rest of the night?

2 A. Yes.

3 Id. at 47-49; see also id. at 46 (“I sat down and I sat next to him and he started [to] stick his finger in 4 me.”). RS testified that the next morning she went outside, and saw Swanson, and told him she was
5 going to tell her mother what happened. Id. at 49-51. She testified that Swanson told her not to tell 6 her mother. Id. She said she was going to tell her mother because it hurt for her to pee. Id. She 7 testified that she went back in the apartment, and called her mother at work and told her what 8 happened. Id. Her mother later picked her up from her grandfather’s apartment and took her to a 9 hospital. Id. at 53. RS testified that she told people at the hospital what had happened. Id.

10 On cross-examination, Swanson asked RS about events that occurred on the morning of 11 January 24, 2000, and RS testified as follows:

12 A. Early the next morning, that’s the -- that’s when, yeah, Sunday 13 morning and then I had -- when we had went upstairs, I had went upstairs first and 14 you came upstairs and you were sitting up in that chair and then you called me up in 15 there and that’s when you was about to do it again.

16 I said no and I went inside.

17 Id. at 64.

18 Next, the prosecution called RS’ mother to testify. Transcript of Trial, January 14, 2003, 19 Exhibit 28, pp. 74-91. She testified that RS’ grandfather, Jimmy Swanson, occasionally took care of 20 her children at his apartment. Id. at 75-76. She testified that on January 24, 2000, she received a call 21 at work from RS. Id. at 77. RS was crying and told her that “her privacy was hurting,” and she 22 could not pee. Id. at 77-78. RS told her: “He was putting his finger in me.” Id. at 78. She testified 23 that she then dropped the phone and left work to go get RS. Id. at 78-79. At the apartment, she 24 found RS crying, sitting on a toilet trying to urinate, and repeatedly saying that she could not. Id. at 25 91. She testified that RS told her that Swanson had done it. Id. at 79. RS’ mother took her to a 26 hospital. Id. at 79-80.

1 The State then called Colleen Baish to testify. Transcript of Trial, January 14, 2003,
2 Exhibit 28, pp. 92-97. Baish, a “child life specialist” at Sunrise Children’s Hospital in Las Vegas,
3 testified that she recalled RS coming into the hospital with her mother and two siblings in January of 4 2000. Id. at 92-94. Baish interviewed RS. Id. at 94-96. When she asked RS why she was at the 5 hospital, RS said: “Because Tony put his finger in me.” Id. at 96.

6 Next, the prosecution called as a witness George Libby, a detective with the Las Vegas
7 Metropolitan Police Department (LVMPD). Transcript of Trial, January 14, 2003, Exhibit 28, pp.
8 97-107. Libby testified that he and another LVMPD detective went to Sunrise Children’s Hospital 9 when RS was there on January 24, 2000. Id. at 99, 104. He testified that he spoke with a doctor who 10 examined RS, and the doctor told him that RS had an abrasion on her hymen, and that was probable
11 evidence of sexual assault or abuse. Id. at 100. Detective Libby testified that he then interviewed 12 RS. Id. at 100-01, 105. RS told him that someone she knew as “Tony” “had touched her buttocks 13 and digitally penetrated her vagina with his finger.” Id. at 101. Detective Libby testified, on cross-14 examination, that he later spoke with RS’ mother and RS’ grandfather, to determine who “Tony”
15 was. Id. at 102-03.

16 On the third day of trial, the prosecution called Marc O’Connor, M.D., a pediatric emergency 17 doctor at Sunrise Children’s Hospital. Transcript of Trial, January 15, 2003, Exhibit 29, pp. 3-20.
18 Dr. O’Connor examined RS. See id. at 6-8. He found that there was abrasion on RS’ hymen. Id. at 19 8. He testified that, base on his examination, “there probably was internal penetration of some 20 sorts.” Id. He concluded it was probable that RS had been sexually abused. Id. at 9. Dr. O’Connor 21 testified that, in his experience, there was nothing besides internal penetration that could cause such 22 an abrasion. Id.

23 Next, the prosecution called as a witness RS’ grandfather, Jimmy Swanson. Transcript of 24 Trial, January 15, 2003, Exhibit 29, pp. 20-47. It was in his apartment where RS was sexually 25 assaulted. Jimmy Swanson testified that on the night in question, Swanson was at his apartment, as 26

1 were RS and her two sisters and brother. Id. at 24-25. Jimmy Swanson testified that RS never said it
2 was anyone other than Swanson who sexually assaulted her. Id. at 45.

3 The prosecution then called to the witness stand TB, a 14-year-old girl, to testify regarding a 4 prior, similar crime committed by Swanson. Transcript of Trial, January 15, 2003, Exhibit 29, pp.
5 48-56. TB testified that on December 30, 1998, when she was eleven years old, she was riding a
6 bicycle with some friends, and Swanson called to them from the door of an apartment and offered 7 them candy. Id. at 49-50. TB testified that she approached Swanson. Id. at 50. She testified as 8 follows about what happened then:

9 A. I walked in and I heard the door lock and I walked towards the candy
10 and Mr. Swanson came up behind me and took his hands and went from my mid-11 thigh all the way up to my back pockets and he whispered in my ear to keep it 12 between me and him.

13 * * *

14 Q. This was over your clothes?

15 A. Yes.

16 Q. And where his hands reached you said to your pockets, was that on 17 your bottom?

18 A. Yes.

19 Q. Did you want him to touch you?

20 A. No.

21 Q. What did you do after this happened?

22 A. I pushed him away and ran home and told my mother?

23 Q. Were you able to get out of the door?

24 A. Yes.

25 Q. You said it was locked, correct?

26 A. Yes. I unlocked it and ran out the door.

Id. at 51-52. The prosecution then read to the jury, from a transcript, admissions that Swanson made regarding the incident involving TB. Id. at 54-55.

1 The State then rested its case. Id. at 55.

2 Swanson re-called RS to the witness stand. Transcript of Trial, January 15, 2003, Exhibit 29,
3 pp. 57-63. Swanson also re-called Jimmy Swanson. Id. at 111-12. On the fourth day of trial,
4 January 16, 2003, Swanson put into evidence a police report regarding the incident involving RS.
5 Transcript of Trial, January 16, 2003, Exhibit 30, pp. 39-40. That concluded the defense case.

6 On January 17, 2003, the jury returned verdicts, finding Swanson guilty of one count of 7 sexual assault with a child under fourteen years of age, and guilty of one count of lewdness with a 8 child under the age of fourteen. Transcript of Trial, January 17, 2003, Exhibit 31, pp. 2-3; Verdict, 9 Exhibit 32.

10 On February 26, 2003, Swanson was sentenced, for the sexual assault with a child under 11 fourteen years of age, to life imprisonment with the possibility of parole after twenty years, and, for 12 the lewdness with a child under the age of fourteen, to a consecutive sentence of life imprisonment, 13 with the possibility of parole after ten years. See Transcript of Sentencing, Exhibit 34. The 14 judgment of conviction was entered on March 14, 2003. See Judgment of Conviction, Exhibit 35.

15 Swanson appealed. See Notice of Appeal, Exhibit 36. Counsel was appointed for Swanson
16 for his appeal. See Transcript, April 24, 2003, Exhibit 43; Order, Exhibit 47; Notice of Appearance 17 of Counsel, Exhibit 49. On May 19, 2005, the Nevada Supreme Court affirmed the judgment of 18 conviction. Order of Affirmance, Exhibit 70.

19 On April 6, 2006, Swanson, acting pro se, filed a petition for writ of habeas corpus in the 20 state district court. Petition for Writ of Habeas Corpus, Exhibit 79. Swanson requested an 21 evidentiary hearing. Request for Evidentiary Hearing, Exhibits 81, 83. The court held a hearing on 22 August 4, 2006, and Swanson was transported to the court for that hearing. See Order for Production
23 of Inmate, Exhibit 90. However, at the August 4, 2006, hearing, Swanson refused to participate.
24 See Reporter's Transcript, August 4, 2006, Exhibit 91, pp. 3-4. The court briefly questioned
25 Swanson's trial counsel. See id. at 4-8. On October 31, 2006, in a written order, the state district 26 court denied Swanson's petition. Findings of Fact, Conclusions of Law and Order, Exhibit 96.

1 Swanson appealed. Notice of Appeal, Exhibits 93, 94, 99. The Nevada Supreme Court affirmed on 2 April 6, 2007. Order of Affirmance, Exhibit 102.

3 Swanson initiated this federal habeas corpus action, by sending a pro se habeas corpus 4 petition to the court for filing, on May 13, 2007 (ECF Nos. 1, 5). Counsel was appointed to 5 represent Swanson (ECF Nos. 12, 15). With counsel, Swanson filed a first amended petition for writ 6 of habeas corpus on September 28, 2003 (ECF No. 23).

7 Respondents filed a motion to dismiss on March 20, 2009 (ECF No. 36). The court granted
8 the motion to dismiss on September 22, 2009 (ECF No. 43), and dismissed Swanson's first amended
9 petition on the ground that all three claims were barred by the statute of limitations. Swanson 10 appealed (ECF No. 45). The court of appeals affirmed with respect to the dismissal of Ground 3 of 11 Swanson's first amended habeas petition, but reversed with respect to the dismissal of Grounds 1 12 and 2 (ECF No. 49). The court of appeals remanded the case to this court for further proceedings.

13 On April 25, 2013, respondents filed an answer (ECF No. 53), responding to Grounds 1
14 and 2. Swanson filed a reply on July 12, 2013 (ECF No. 56). Swanson's first amended habeas 15 petition is now before the court with respect to the merits of Grounds 1 and 2.

16 Standard of Review

17 Because this action was initiated after April 24, 1996, the amendments to 28 U.S.C. § 2254
18 enacted as part of the Antiterrorism and Effective Death Penalty Act (AEDPA) apply. See Lindh v.
19 Murphy, 521 U.S. 320, 336 (1997); Van Tran v. Lindsey, 212 F.3d 1143, 1148 (9th Cir.2000), 20 overruled on other grounds by Lockyer v. Andrade, 538 U.S. 63 (2003). 28 U.S.C. § 2254(d) sets
21 forth the primary standard of review under AEDPA:

22 An application for a writ of habeas corpus on behalf of a person in custody
23 pursuant to the judgment of a State court shall not be granted with respect to any 24 claim that was adjudicated on the merits in State court proceedings unless the adjudication of the claim --

25 (1) resulted in a decision that was contrary to, or involved an unreasonable
26 application of, clearly established Federal law, as determined by the Supreme Court of the United States; or

1 (2) resulted in a decision that was based on an unreasonable determination of 2 the facts in light of the evidence presented in the State court proceeding.

3 28 U.S.C. § 2254(d).

4 A state court decision is contrary to clearly established Supreme Court precedent, within the 5 meaning of 28 U.S.C. § 2254, “if the state court applies a rule that contradicts the governing law set
6 forth in [the Supreme Court’s] cases” or “if the state court confronts a set of facts that are materially
7 indistinguishable from a decision of [the Supreme Court] and nevertheless arrives at a result
8 different from [the Supreme Court’s] precedent.” Lockyer v. Andrade, 538 U.S. 63, 73 (2003)
9 (quoting Williams v. Taylor, 529 U.S. 362, 405-06 (2000), and citing Bell v. Cone, 535 U.S. 685, 694 10 (2002)).

11 A state court decision is an unreasonable application of clearly established Supreme Court
12 precedent, within the meaning of 28 U.S.C. § 2254(d), “if the state court identifies the correct
13 governing legal principle from [the Supreme Court’s] decisions but unreasonably applies that 14 principle to the facts of the prisoner’s case.” Lockyer, 538 U.S. at 75 (quoting Williams, 529 U.S.
15 at 413). The “unreasonable application” clause requires the state court decision to be more than 16 incorrect or erroneous; the state court’s application of clearly established law must be objectively 17 unreasonable. Id. (quoting Williams, 529 U.S. at 409).

18 The Supreme Court has further instructed that “[a] state court’s determination that a claim 19 lacks merit precludes federal habeas relief so long as ‘fairminded jurists could disagree’ on the 20 correctness of the state court’s decision.” Harrington v. Richter, 562 U.S. 86, 131 S.Ct. 770, 786
21 (2011) (citing Yarborough v. Alvarado, 541 U.S. 652, 664 (2004)). The Supreme Court has stated 22 “that even a strong case for relief does not mean the state court’s contrary conclusion was 23 unreasonable.” Id. (citing Lockyer, 538 U.S. at 75); see also Cullen v. Pinholster, __ U.S. __, 131 24 S.Ct. 1388, 1398 (2011) (describing the AEDPA standard as “a difficult to meet and highly 25 deferential standard for evaluating state-court rulings, which demands that state-court decisions be 26 given the benefit of the doubt” (internal quotation marks and citations omitted)).

1 The state court's "last reasoned decision" is the ruling subject to section 2254(d) review.
2 Cheney v. Washington, 614 F.3d 987, 995 (9th Cir. 2010). If the last reasoned state-court decision
3 adopts or substantially incorporates the reasoning from a previous state-court decision, a federal 4 habeas court may consider both decisions to ascertain the state court's reasoning. See Edwards v.
5 Lamarque, 475 F.3d 1121, 1126 (9th Cir.2007) (en banc).

6 Analysis

7 Ground 1

8 In Ground 1 of his first amended habeas corpus petition, Swanson claims that "while 9 approving Swanson's self-representation, the trial court denied him any meaningful access to 10 witnesses and records which could have helped establish his defense in violation of his Sixth and 11 Fourteenth Amendment rights to present a defense through compulsory process." First Amended 12 Petition (ECF No. 23), p. 9.

13 Swanson raised this claim on his direct appeal, and the Nevada Supreme Court ruled on it 14 as follows:

15 ... Swanson claims that the district court failed to ensure he was afforded his 16 right to compulsory process. A defendant representing himself in a criminal action
17 has a constitutional right to use the compulsory process. [Footnote: Harris v. State, 18 113 Nev. 799, 803, 942 P.2d 151, 155 (1997).] We conclude that the district court correctly informed Swanson that he was responsible for obtaining subpoenas for his own witnesses. [Footnote: See NRS 174.305.]

19 Order of Affirmance, Exhibit 70, pp. 4-5.

20 During his trial -- after jury selection and before opening statements -- Swanson exercised his 21 right to represent himself and, from that point on, represented himself at trial. See Transcript of 22 Trial, January 14, 2003, Exhibit 28, pp. 3-30. He did so despite the warnings of the trial judge that 23 discharging his counsel and taking over his own representation, in the midst of the trial, might be an 24 imprudent decision, and that it was likely too late to subpoena witnesses. See id.

25 In May 2001, some twenty months before his trial commenced, Swanson made a motion
26 seeking permission to represent himself, but changed his mind and withdrew the request. See

1 Pro Se Motion, Exhibit 12; Reporter's Transcript, May 31, 2001, Exhibit 13; Reporter's Transcript,
2 June 6, 2001, Exhibit 14. He then waited until after the trial started before he insisted on 3 representing himself and was granted permission by the trial court to do so.

4 There is no indication in the record that the trial court prevented Swanson from subpoenaing
5 witnesses or documents. Rather, the record reflects that Swanson's difficulty in those regards was 6 primarily the result of the timing of his decision to represent himself.

7 The essence of Swanson's claim is that the trial court did not do enough to assist him in his 8 efforts to compel the appearance of certain witnesses. See, e.g., First Amended Petition, p. 13
9 ("When self-representation is allowed, the court has a duty to provide the accused the means of 10 effecting such constitutional rights. While specific means, such as use of standby counsel, may not 11 be required, the trial court must assure in some form that such rights of the accused to present a 12 defense are protected."). However, Swanson cites no authority for this contention, much less any 13 "clearly established Federal law, as determined by the Supreme Court of the United States." See 28
14 U.S.C. § 2254(d).

15 The Sixth and Fourteenth Amendments to the United States Constitution guarantee the right
16 of a criminal defendant in state court to compel witnesses to testify. See Washington v. Texas, 388
17 U.S. 14, 17-19 (1967). And, in the landmark case of Faretta v. California, 422 U.S. 806 (1975), the 18 Supreme Court recognized that a criminal defendant, in state court, has a right, under the Sixth and 19 Fourteenth Amendments, to conduct his own defense. Faretta, 422 U.S. at 807. However, "[a] 20 defendant does not have a constitutional right to receive personal instruction from the trial judge on 21 courtroom procedure." McKaskle v. Wiggins, 465 U.S. 168, 183 (1984). "Nor does the Constitution 22 require judges to take over chores for a pro se defendant that would normally be attended to by 23 trained counsel as a matter of course." Id. at 184.

24 Moreover, in this case, while the trial judge was not required under any Supreme Court
25 precedent to assist Swanson, the record shows that the judge did actually assist Swanson regarding 26 his apparent wish to call certain witnesses and enter an exhibit: in canvassing Swanson regarding his

1 motion to represent himself, the trial judge warned Swanson that it was likely too late to subpoena
2 additional witnesses (see Transcript of Trial, January 14, 2003, Exhibit 28, p. 18); the trial judge
3 arranged for Swanson to make telephone calls to attempt to bring witnesses to trial (see Transcript of
4 Trial, January 14, 2003, Exhibit 28, pp. 108-09, and Transcript of Trial, January 15, 2003, Exhibit
5 29, pp. 140-41); the trial judge requested that the prosecutor contact RS' sisters and have them come 6 to court so that Swanson could speak to them and determine if they should testify (see Transcript of
7 Trial, January 14, 2003, Exhibit 28, pp. 109-11, and Transcript of Trial, January 16, 2003, Exhibit
8 30, pp. 27-29); the trial judge asked the bailiff to inquire whether Swanson's witnesses were in the 9 hallway outside the courtroom (see Transcript of Trial, January 16, 2003, Exhibit 30, p. 35); the trial
10 judge walked Swanson through the process of offering an exhibit into evidence (see Transcript of 11 Trial, January 16, 2003, Exhibit 30, pp. 39-40).

12 In his reply, Swanson focuses his argument on RS' two sisters, and asserts that the trial court
13 violated his rights in not ordering them to testify in Swanson's defense when they were in court on 14 January 15, 2003. See Reply (ECF No. 56), pp. 26-30.

15 On January 14, 2003, the second day of trial, and the day that Swanson began to represent 16 himself, the following exchange occurred with the jury not present:

17 MS. KOLLINS [prosecutor]: I would just inquire of Mr. Swanson if he 18 intends to call the girls to testify that the State will accommodate him and make the phone calls.

19 I don't think it's appropriate he be calling the victim's house.

20 MR. SWANSON: I'm not gonna call the victim.

21 THE COURT: The victim is already on the witness stand. You're going to 22 re-call that person?

23 MR. SWANSON: I might re-call them later on.

24 THE COURT: There's not much later on involved here. Tomorrow we're going to probably end up with all the testimony.

25 MR. SWANSON: Well, no. I was thinking of calling the sisters.

26 THE COURT: Is that who you're referring to as well?

1 MS. KOLLINS: I am.

2 They live with the victim. I realize he's representing himself. I think it's 3 inappropriate to have him contacting the victim at, contacting the victim's home. We will call them and ask them to appear.

4 THE COURT: Do you want them to testify?

5 MR. SWANSON: That's cool.

6 MS. KOLLINS: You see that predicament.

7 THE COURT: Well, call them and ask them to be outside the court room.

8 Well, it's not appropriate for you to ask them because they are not your 9 witness.

10 Do you see what I'm saying?

11 MS. KOLLINS: I do.

12 THE COURT: Call them and indicate to them that the Defendant wishes to 13 speak with them, with the idea behind it calling them as a witness. Have them here at 1:30. If they are obliged to do so. They are not compelled to do so. If they are here at 1:30 we'll let you interview them before you call them.

14 Do you understand?

15 MR. SWANSON: All right.

16 Transcript of Trial, January 14, 2003, Exhibit 28, pp. 109-11. The next day, January 15, 2003, the 17 third day of trial, RS' sisters were present at the trial, and Swanson was able to speak with them. See
18 Transcript of Trial, January 15, 2003, Exhibit 29, p. 68. Swanson told the court he intended to call 19 them as witnesses. See id. at 68-69, 71, 82-83, 89. However, regarding at least the older of the two 20 sisters, who was 12 years old at the time of trial, Swanson seemed to indicate that he did not wish to 21 force her to testify:

22 THE COURT: You don't know what she's going to testify to?

23 [MR. SWANSON]⁴: Actually I don't want to put no pressure on her to be 24 honest with you.

25

⁴ In this part of the transcript, Swanson is erroneously referred to as "Mr. Watson."

1 Id. at 87. Swanson made no request on that day to have the court order either of the girls to testify,
2 and, later, when the trial judge asked Swanson what other witnesses he was going to call on that day,
3 Swanson replied: “Today, um, no one.” Id. at 90. And, when asked what witnesses he intended to 4 call the following day, Swanson did not mention either of RS’ sisters. See id. at 102-04. The 5 following day, January 16, 2003, there was further discussion about whether RS’ sisters would be 6 called by Swanson to testify. See Transcript of Trial, January 16, 2003, Exhibit 30, pp. 18-32.
7 At the conclusion of that discussion, the trial judge asked Swanson: “You’re going to present no
8 case today at all?” Id. at 32. Swanson answered: “No, sir.” Id.

9 The record shows, therefore, that Swanson was uncertain how RS’ sisters would testify, and 10 he was uncertain and inconsistent regarding whether he wished to compel them to testify. In this 11 court’s view, the state courts’ conclusion, that the trial court did not deny Swanson’s right to compel 12 RS’ sisters to testify, was not objectively unreasonable. Certainly, Swanson cites no “clearly 13 established Federal law, as determined by the Supreme Court of the United States,” supporting his 14 contention that under these circumstances there was a denial of his constitutional right to compulsory 15 process. See 28 U.S.C. § 2254(d).

16 Moreover, assuming, for purposes of analysis only, that there was a violation of Swanson’s
17 constitutional right to compel RS’ sisters to testify, this court would find that any such violation was 18 harmless. The prejudicial impact of a constitutional error is assessed by asking whether the error had 19 “a substantial and injurious effect or influence in determining the jury’s verdict.” Brecht v.
20 Abrahamson, 507 U.S. 619, 623 (1993); see also Fry v. Pliler, 551 U.S. 112, 121–22 (2007)
21 (holding that the Brecht standard applies whether or not the state courts recognized the error and 22 reviewed it for harmlessness). Swanson did not offer in state court, and he has not proffered in 23 federal court, a declaration of either of the two sisters, or any other evidence of any kind, showing 24 how they would have testified. See Reply, pp. 28-30. Swanson submits only bald speculation that 25 their testimony would have been beneficial to his defense. See id.

1 This court finds that the state courts' denial of the claim asserted by Swanson as 2 Ground 1 of his first amended habeas petition was not contrary to, or an unreasonable application of,
3 clearly established federal law, as determined by the Supreme Court of the United States, and the 4 state courts' ruling was not based on an unreasonable determination of the facts in light of the 5 evidence presented. See 28 U.S.C. § 2254(d). Swanson does not show habeas relief corpus to be 6 warranted. The court will deny habeas corpus relief with respect to this claim.

7 Ground 2

8 In Ground 2, Swanson claims that he "was denied his Sixth and Fourteenth Amendment right
9 to the effective assistance of counsel when counsel failed to properly investigate the case and defend 10 his client." First Amended Petition, p. 14.

11 In Strickland v. Washington, 466 U.S. 668 (1984), the Supreme Court propounded a two 12 prong test for analysis of claims of ineffective assistance of counsel: the petitioner must demonstrate 13 (1) that the defense attorney's representation "fell below an objective standard of reasonableness," 14 and (2) that the attorney's deficient performance prejudiced the defendant such that "there is a 15 reasonable probability that, but for counsel's unprofessional errors, the result of the proceeding 16 would have been different." Strickland, 466 U.S. at 688, 694. A court considering a claim of 17 ineffective assistance must apply a "strong presumption" that counsel's representation was within the 18 "wide range" of reasonable professional assistance. Id. at 689. The petitioner's burden is to show 19 "that counsel made errors so serious that counsel was not functioning as the 'counsel' guaranteed the 20 defendant by the Sixth Amendment." Id. at 687. And, to establish prejudice under Strickland, it is 21 not enough for the habeas petitioner "to show that the errors had some conceivable effect on the 22 outcome of the proceeding." Id. at 693. Rather, the errors must be "so serious as to deprive the 23 defendant of a fair trial, a trial whose result is reliable." Id. at 687.

24 Where a state court has adjudicated a claim of ineffective assistance of counsel, under 25 Strickland, establishing that the decision was unreasonable under AEDPA is especially difficult.
26 See Richter, 562 U.S. at 104-05. In Richter, the Supreme Court instructed:

1 The standards created by Strickland and § 2254(d) are both highly deferential,
 2 [Strickland, 466 U.S. at 689]; Lindh v. Murphy, 521 U.S. 320, 333, n. 7, 117 S.Ct.
 3 2059, 138 L.Ed.2d 481 (1997), and when the two apply in tandem, review is “doubly”
 4 so, [Knowles v. Mirzayance, 556 U.S. 111, 123 (2009)]. The Strickland standard is a 5 general one, so the range of reasonable applications is substantial. 556 U.S., at 123, 6 129 S.Ct. at 1420. Federal habeas courts must guard against the danger of equating unreasonableness under Strickland with unreasonableness under § 2254(d). When § 2254(d) applies, the question is not whether counsel’s actions were reasonable. The question is whether there is any reasonable argument that counsel satisfied Strickland’s deferential standard.

7 Richter, 562 U.S. at 105; see also Cheney, 614 F.3d at 994-95 (acknowledging double deference 8 required to state court adjudications of Strickland claims).

9 The Nevada Supreme Court summarily affirmed the denial of this claim in its April 6, 2007,
 10 order of affirmance:

11 The district court found that counsel were not ineffective.

12 * * *

13 The district court’s factual findings are entitled to deference when reviewed on 14 appeal. [Footnote: See Riley v. State, 110 Nev. 638, 647, 878 P.2d 272, 278 (1994).]
 15 Our review of the record on appeal reveals that the district court’s findings of fact are supported by substantial evidence and are not clearly wrong. Moreover, we conclude that the district court did not err as a matter of law.

16 Order of Affirmance, Exhibit 102, pp. 1-2.

17 Below, the state district court denied Swanson’s claim after a hearing. The hearing was held 18 on August 4, 2006, with Swanson appearing pro se. At the hearing, Swanson’s trial counsel took the 19 witness stand and was sworn as a witness. Reporter’s Transcript, August 4, 2006, Exhibit 91, p. 2.

20 The hearing then continued as follows:

21 THE COURT: All right. Now, the basis in large part for the petition for a 22 writ of habeas corpus is to challenge the effectiveness of counsel. Intertwined in this petition are various legal arguments which the Court can entertain without consulting a witness.

23 And I would also point out that in the trial of this matter Mr. Jorgenson 24 [Swanson’s trial counsel] assisted the defendant up and through the jury selection, but the defendant opted to represent himself thereafter.

25 So the ineffectiveness of this challenge goes up to the point where Mr.
 26 Jorgenson was no longer responsible for the defendant’s defense.

1 Now, Mr. Swanson, we're going to begin somewhat informally. By that I 2 mean that we're not going [to] adhere strictly to procedural rules here. We're going to ask questions back and forth here, the Prosecutor and myself.

3 THE DEFENDANT [Swanson]: I don't even wish to participate, Your 4 Honor.

5 THE COURT: You don't?

6 THE DEFENDANT: Just go ahead and do what you're going to do.

7 THE COURT: You don't want to pursue your writ?

8 THE DEFENDANT: No.

9 THE COURT: Why did you file it if you didn't want to pursue it?

10 THE DEFENDANT: Because the result of my remedies it could go to the Feds. Go ahead and do what you're going to do. I am not going to participate.

11 THE COURT: Do you want to submit it on the brief? Is that what you're 12 saying?

13 THE DEFENDANT: I submitted it.

14 THE COURT: All right. That's going to suffice just a submittal. All right.
We can proceed on that basis.

15 Id. at 3-4. The court then went on to summarize Swanson's claims and to question Swanson's trial
16 counsel briefly about certain of them. Id. at 4-10. Regarding the claimed insufficiency of counsel's 17 pretrial investigation, the following exchange occurred:

18 THE COURT: ... The next matter is that Mr. Jorgenson failed to call various 19 witnesses, as I understand it. I'll ask your understanding Mr. Jorgenson. We're talking about the alleged victim's family.

20 Is that what your recollection is?

21 THE WITNESS: Right. There was an uncle and other family members who 22 in theory were witnesses.

23 THE COURT: And do you recall your thinking as to whether or not to call these people?

24 THE WITNESS: After interviewing the uncle who was the owner of the 25 house, and was in the words of the uncle and the police report the other adult witness, potential witness to the acts, he indicated to me that his testimony wouldn't help.
26

1 And he indicated the other potential adult witness that Mr. Swanson wanted to 2 call was not present during any period of time in which the events would have occurred.

3 I attempted to call -- some I talked to, some I was not able to talk to. One was 4 in prison. One was -- all I had was a cell phone number and wasn't able to get a hold of him.

5 Although that was one of the people that the uncle, who I did talk to, I went to 6 his house and spoke to him personally that was at the scene of the crime. He indicated that person, who you could only get on the cell phone, wasn't present so he 7 really couldn't give us any direct testimony.

8 THE COURT: Well, all right. Are you saying that in your estimation these witnesses would not have testified in a way that would have been beneficial to the 9 defense of this case, or they were unavailable, or a combination of the two?

10 THE WITNESS: Combination of the two. Mainly they would have said we have no knowledge of the facts, we weren't present.

11 * * *

12 THE COURT: ... Ms. Kollins [prosecutor], anything that we haven't discussed here?

13 MS. KOLLINS: No, Your Honor. I guess the only thing that concerns the 14 State is that Mr. Swanson has never made an offer of proof as to what he anticipated these witnesses would all say that would have changed the outcome of the trial.

15 I know what Mr. Jorgenson gleaned from them, but Mr. Swanson has always 16 just said these family members, these people that were never called. Never has he made a specific offer of proof as to what he thinks would have come out in trial that 17 would have changed the outcome of the trial.

18 THE COURT: That's true. That's true. We could speculate based on what
Mr. Jorgenson indicated. I think it would follow that the whole family, I would think 19 that the family would be a little upset with the defendant if, in fact, the allegations were believed.

20 Mr. Jorgenson's investigation of each one of them certainly suggests that 21 would have been the status of the matter.

22 Well, having review it the Court's of the mind that there's no merit to the petition and, accordingly, it is denied.

24 Id. at 4-11. In its written order, the state district court ruled as follows on Swanson's claim of 25 ineffective assistance of counsel:
26

1 On August 4, 2006, this court heard argument on Defendant's petition.
 2 Defendant declined to participate in the hearing and instead submitted it on his brief.
 3 RT 8-4-06 [Exhibit 91], p. 3-4. Deputy Public Defender Craig Jorgenson, Defendant's counsel until the court, after a Faretta canvass, granted Defendant's request to represent himself, was present and examined by the court.

4 Defendant received effective assistance of counsel up until the time that 5 Defendant's motion to continue his trial in proper person was granted.

6 Defendant's complaint that Mr. Jorgenson was ineffective for failing to interview and/or call witnesses Defendant believed were essential to his defense is 7 completely unsupported. Mr. Jorgenson testified at the evidentiary hearing that Defendant wanted him to call certain family members of the victim's family, however, these witnesses indicated to Mr. Jorgenson that their testimony would 8 not help as they were not present at the time of the alleged incident. RT 8-4-06 [Exhibit 91], p. 4-5. Other witnesses were either incarcerated, unavailable or 9 unresponsive despite attempts to reach them. Id. As such, Mr. Jorgenson concluded that these alleged exculpatory witnesses would not assist Defendant in his defense any 10 way. Id. at 5-6.

11 The record is clear that counsel did not believe these witnesses would assist Defendant in any way in his defense and he felt strongly enough about it that he 12 preferred to withdraw from the case [rather] than call them and hurt his client.

13 Court: The question is rather simple, I suppose. That is, Mr.
 Jorgenson, do you feel that you cannot call these witnesses, 14 notwithstanding the fact that your client requests such, or do you think you should call them at his request and see what they have to say? ...

15 Mr. Jorgenson: No. I would not call any of these witnesses.

16 Court: You don't think you can represent your client if he insists on 17 calling these people?

18 Mr. Jorgenson: That's correct.

19 RT 1-14-03 [Exhibit 28], p. 14-15.

20 Further, Defendant failed to show how a better investigation would have rendered a more favorable outcome probable.

21 * * *

22 Defendant has failed to show that Mr. Jorgenson's performance fell below an 23 objective standard of reasonableness and that but for his counsel's alleged deficient performance there was a reasonable probability that the outcome of his case would 24 have been different.

25 Findings of Fact, Conclusions of Law and Order, Exhibit 96, pp. 3-4 (paragraph numbering omitted).

26 This court finds objectively reasonable the state courts' conclusion that Swanson failed to

1 show that the performance of his trial counsel, with respect to the investigation of potential
2 witnesses, fell below an objective standard of reasonableness. Trial counsel took steps to determine
3 whether the potential witnesses would testify in a manner helpful to the defense, and determined that 4 they would not.

5 Furthermore, this court also finds objectively reasonable the state courts' conclusion that 6 Swanson failed to show that, but for his counsel's alleged deficient performance, there was a 7 reasonable probability that the outcome of his case would have been different. Swanson simply 8 made no showing at all in the state habeas proceeding that his defense could have benefitted from the 9 testimony of any of the witnesses he contends his trial counsel should have better investigated.

10 In this federal habeas action, Swanson proffers the declaration of investigator Patricia
11 Schoenfeld, who interviewed Swanson's brother, Donald Swanson, one of the potential witnesses
12 Swanson contends his counsel should have better investigated. See Declaration of Patricia 13 Schoenfeld, Exhibit 105. In that declaration, dated September 5, 2008, Schoenfeld states that 14 Donald Swanson was incarcerated at a Nevada prison when she interviewed him. Id. at 1.
15 According to the declaration, Donald Swanson claimed that, on the night Swanson allegedly sexually 16 assaulted RS, he, Donald Swanson, spent the night at Jimmy Swanson's apartment. Id. at 2.
17 According to the declaration, Donald Swanson claimed that on that night, Jimmy, RS, and one of 18 RS' sisters slept upstairs in the apartment, and he, Swanson, and Swanson's other brother, Anthony, 19 slept downstairs. Id. at 2. According to the declaration, Donald Swanson claimed that RS "never 20 told him that Tony [Swanson] touched her," and he claimed that "he never heard [RS] upset that 21 night." Id. According to the declaration, Donald Swanson claimed that he heard Swanson deny 22 "touching" RS. Id. According to the declaration, Donald Swanson claimed in the interview that "he 23 did not believe that Tony [Swanson] had gone upstairs to the girl's room and touched [RS], because 24 her grandfather's room was located across the hallway from hers." Id. Of course, Swanson did not 25 offer the Schoenfeld declaration as evidence in state court, and he did not offer any other sort of 26 evidence in state court to show how Donald Swanson would have testified at his trial. See

1 Reporter's Transcript, August 4, 2006, Exhibit 91; Findings of Fact, Conclusions of Law and Order,
2 Exhibit 96. Rather, Swanson refused to participate in the hearing on his state court habeas petition,
3 and he offered no evidence at all in that proceeding. See Reporter's Transcript, August 4, 2006,
4 Exhibit 91, pp. 3-4. "Review under § 2254(d)(1) is limited to the record that was before the state
5 court that adjudicated the claim on the merits." Cullen v. Pinholster, 131 S.Ct. 1388, 1398 (2011).
6 "[E]vidence introduced in federal court has no bearing on § 2254(d)(1) review. If a claim has been 7 adjudicated on the merits by a state court, a federal habeas petitioner must overcome the limitation of 8 § 2254(d)(1) on the record that was before that state court." Id. at 1400.

9 This court finds that the state courts' denial of the claim asserted by Swanson as Ground 2 of 10 his first amended habeas petition was not contrary to, or an unreasonable application of, clearly
11 established federal law, as determined by the Supreme Court of the United States, and the state
12 courts' ruling was not based on an unreasonable determination of the facts in light of the evidence 13 presented. See 28 U.S.C. § 2254(d). Swanson does not show habeas relief to be warranted. The 14 court will deny habeas corpus relief with respect to this claim.

15 Certificate of Appealability

16 The standard for issuance of a certificate of appealability calls for a "substantial showing 17 of the denial of a constitutional right." 28 U.S.C. §2253(c). The Supreme Court interpreted 18 28 U.S.C. §2253(c) as follows:

19 Where a district court has rejected the constitutional claims on the merits, the 20 showing required to satisfy § 2253(c) is straightforward: The petitioner must 21 demonstrate that reasonable jurists would find the district court's assessment of the constitutional claims debatable or wrong.

22 Slack v. McDaniel, 529 U.S. 473, 484 (2000); see also James v. Giles, 221 F.3d 1074, 1077-79
23 (9th Cir. 2000). The Supreme Court further illuminated the standard in Miller-El v. Cockrell, 24 537 U.S. 322 (2003). The Court stated in that case:

1 We do not require petitioner to prove, before the issuance of a COA, that some jurists
2 would grant the petition for habeas corpus. Indeed, a claim can be debatable even 3 though every jurist of reason might agree, after the COA has been granted and the 4 case has received full consideration, that petitioner will not prevail. As we stated in 5 Slack, “[w]here a district court has rejected the constitutional claims on the merits, the 6 showing required to satisfy § 2253(c) is straightforward: The petitioner must 7 demonstrate that reasonable jurists would find the district court’s assessment of the 8 constitutional claims debatable or wrong.”

9 Miller-El, 123 S.Ct. at 1040 (quoting Slack, 529 U.S. at 484).

10 The court has considered Swanson’s claims in Grounds 1 and 2 of his first amended habeas 11 petition, with respect to whether either satisfies the standard for issuance of a certificate of appeal, 12 and the court determines that neither does. The court will deny Swanson a certificate of 13 appealability.

14 IT IS THEREFORE ORDERED that the Clerk of the Court shall update the docket in this 15 case to substitute Dwight Neven for E.K. McDaniel as the respondent warden, and to substitute 16 Adam Paul Laxalt for Catherine Cortez Masto as the respondent Nevada Attorney General.

17 IT IS FURTHER ORDERED that petitioner Tony DeAngelo Swanson’s First Amended
18 Petition for Writ of Habeas Corpus (ECF No. 23) is DENIED.

19 IT IS FURTHER ORDERED that petitioner is denied a certificate of appealability.

20 IT IS FURTHER ORDERED that the Clerk of the Court shall ENTER JUDGMENT
21 ACCORDINGLY.

22 Dated this 27th day of April, 2015.

UNITED STATES DISTRICT JUDGE
